POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

With jobs in the shipyards, jobs on the farm, jobs in the aircraft factories, jobs on the railroads—and jobs in a hundred and one defense industries, all beckoning to willing workers—it may seem like a strange time to rake up the withered leaves of the State Relief Administration.

But some facts have come to light on developments in the relief situation, since the Legislature cut the SRA off at the pockets and turned the problem over to the counties, which indicate that when the whole, unabridged story of relief administration in California is told it will make the once sensational Teapot Dome scandal look like just a piker's peccadillo.

During the two-year period which ended on July 1, California spent the staggering sum of $77,364,000, supporting the gigantic State Relief Administration structure. It was the biggest department of state government, with an administrative staff which ran into the thousands—and with an insatiable appetite for appropriations which scandalized even veteran legislators.

Due to deadlocks, disagreements and inability of the Legislature and Governor Olson to come to terms on a compromise proposal, it was finally cut off without a penny.

What hapened? It's the most revealing story since the start of alphabetical commissions.

Take Los Angeles county, for example, as that county under SRA, had the biggest relief load in California. When the State Relief Administration ceased operations on July 1, there were 12,800 cases on SRA rolls in Los Angeles county. Only 8,000 of those sought assistance from the County Welfare department, and the county actually granted relief to only 6,000 cases—an immediate drop of more than half the total load! The 6,000 cases taken over by the county were kept on the rolls until Sept. 1 when it became apparent that Governor Olson would not call a special legislative session to appropriate state funds to aid the counties. At that time ,the county discharged all of these cases, except for persons working on unfinished projects. As of Sept. 24, there were only 1,580 men and 300 women left on the rolls—and even that small case load is now dwindling.

While this was taking place what happened to the Los Angeles county indigent rolls? Did they increase sharply, as forecast? No, quite to the contrary, the number of indigents dropped from 15,000 to 12,000, although these persons, presumably, were unemployables. Moreover, the threatened increase in the Los Angeles tax rate failed to materialize; the tax rate even dropped a cent.

All over California the story is much the same. The dole is dead, but not one is dying of hunger, despite dire predictions to the contrary. The biggest raid on the state treasury in California's history has ended. But the question still remains: "What went on before it came to an end?"

Club Women Hear Pioneer Talk By San Jose Attorney

Allan P. Lindsay, San Jose attorney, was guest speaker at the Monday meeting of the Country Woman's club.

Mr. Lindsay's topic was "Pioneering." He told of pioneering of the past, the present chance for pioneering, and the need for pioneers in the future. Concerning the pioneering of today which is going on in all industries, he asked the question, "Will democracy keep pace with our scientists?" He said that there is certainly a frontier and a chance for pioneering in the world of today. "When we arrive at a frontier, it may shift on." In closing he stated, "We've have to pioneer out future to keep our liberty and help the world get back its freedom."

Mrs. C. W. Sutter, oldest resident of Campbell, read her own reminiscences of the early days of the country in and about Campbell and Los Gatos. She told interesting events in the rise of now well known names and land marks. This country was then laid out in grain fields and the view between Campbell and San Jose was not interrupted by houses or trees. The first Old Settlers' day was started in 1894 when some of the old timers met to talk over the days of '49. The rise in the amount of money expended on institutions of learning here makes a good scale on which to mark the progress of the community.

The musical portion of the program was provided by the Woman's Club Chorus, accompanied by Mrs. Virginia Rutherford. The selections which the ladies beautifully sang

Ed Strayer Injured In Auto Accident

Edward A. Strayer of the Ainsley corporation office, whose home is on Panorama Drive, out from Los Gatos, was badly injured in an automobile accident on the Bayshore highway, Monday evening.

He was on his way to San Francisco and as reported ran into the rear of a truck and trailer. He was taken to Mills hospital in San Mateo where, we were informed, that examination disclosed extensive facial cuts, chest injury and a broken knee cap.

He was alone in the car which was so badly wrecked that his wife wondered how he came out alive.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Person, former popular residents of Campbell, arrived Monday from Portland, Ore. He continued on to Los Angeles but Mrs. Person remained as the house guest of Mrs. Dan W. Clark. He plans to return the first of the week and after a short stay, they will return to their home.

Grammar P.-T. A. Met Tuesday In Opening Session

The Campbell Union Grammar School P.-T. A. met Tuesday, Oct. 7 in the kindergarten room of the school. The meeting was primarily a reception for the teachers and new members. Mrs. W. F. Grattan, president, Mrs. John Hiatt, membership chairman, and Mrs. F. J. Bohrman, hospitality chairman, extended a most cordial welcome to those attending.

Mrs. J. W. Knowles and Mrs. M. F. Hughes were appointed to meet with a committee from the high school P.-T. A. to see about a stop light or four-way stop at the corner of Winchester road and Campbell avenue.

Mrs. Grattan reported on the meetings she attended during the summer, including the 6th district meeting. Everyone was very happy over the announcement that an audiometer will be purchased for use in all county schools. She told of a very interesting demonstration of a reading machine at the meeting and urged everyone to see the large one at the fair. She named the seven needs of every child: normal home life, security, freedom of religion and speech, possession of property, useful work, pride in workmanship, social approval.

Friday, Oct. 10, the Campbell unit will enterain the El Paradiso council at the high school. Those appointed to represent Campbell were Mesdames Anthony Jurras, D. A. Sanders, B. W. Justice, Walter Williams, John Hiatt, C. P. Klassen, Genevieve Scarper.

After being entertained by songs from kindergarten children everyone adjourned to the cafeteria where refreshments were served by the executive board. The teachers were presented gardenias and were introduced to the group in the order of their grades.

The next meeting of the unit will be Nov. 4.

Next week Mrs. Charlotte Sutter will repeat the paper on the early history of Campbell which she read for the Country Woman's club, with an enterainment feature.

Adult Education Classes To Start Monday, Oct. 13

An up-to-date curriculum of adult education is to open at Campbell Union High school, Monday, Oct. 13, offering courses in every branch of learning for which the school has facilities.

In order to make each class self supporting, so far as the local district is concerned, it has been found necessary to enforce a minimum enrollment of twelve in each course. Enrollees are therefore urged to make application at once to insure the continuance of the class in which they may be interested.

Class schedules will be arranged on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p. m. in accordance with the wishes of the class. Afternoon classes may also be arranged.

A fee of $1.00 will be charged for registration in each class. This fee will be refunded to all those attending 85 per cent of the meetings of the class.

Campbell Day At Fair To Be Saturday, Oct. 11

Hi! Ho! Come to the Fair, Saturday, Oct. 11, Campbell Day.

A non-school day and the last but one of the fair will undoubtedly see a large representation from Campbell enjoying the many attractions that have been provided both in exhibits and entertainment.

The committee in charge of the Campbell women's booth spent a great deal of time and effort contacting various women especially proficient in a particular line and in chasing down reported prospects. Be sure to see it. It captured second prize.

Campbell is well represented in the grange exhibit, which contains a number of pictures of homes and places here taken by J. C. Gordon, a former resident and active worker in Orchard City grange.

Another point of interest for Campbellites to see is a page of a 4 feet by 4 feet art book exhibited by the Woodrow Wilson Junior High school of San Jose. This page pictures Campbell "now and then" with brief items, the material and pictures for which were prepared by R. H. Knappen of the Campbell Press.

Saturday is also Future Farmers day and Campbell high school will undoubtedly be well represented in exhibits and numbers, as they won numerous prizes at the state fair in Sacramento.

Program for the day as outlined is as follows:

10 a. m. Future Farmers of America showmanship contest; 11 a. m. Flower and garden judging; 2 p. m. Arrival of special train from San Francisco. Free vaudeville acts and skits. 2 p. m. Trotting races. Two heats. Running races. Quarter-mile stock horse races. Stake race. Square walking race. 5 p. m. Retreat. U. S. Army and marine ceremony. 8 p. m. Horse show. Revelations of 1942. Gayway attractions. 9 to 12 p. m. Free dancing.

Several communities and organizations chose this as "their" day. They are Campbell, Gilroy, Grange, Future Farmers, San Francisco, Peninsula, Oakland - Alameda county, San Francisco Interchange club, and Old Timers.

School Buildings Modeled For Fair

Students of Miss Lewis' art classes have made clay models of Campbell High school that are being exhibited in the Grange exhibit at the county fair. Steve Casaleggio laid out the plans for the grounds.

The students who did the fine work on the model are Joe Presto, Susan Williams, Robert Hunley, Virginia Cooke, Pat Ratliff, Beverly Baird, Gene Brink, La Rae Menson, Denise Bushnell and Donald Smith.

Farce to be Given By Footlighters On Friday, Oct. 17

The Footlighters are going into the final rehearsals of what promises to be one of the fastest moving comedies ever presented in Campbell.

This three act farcial fact is to be presented Friday evening, Oct. 17 at 8 o'clock sharp in the high school auditorium. The proceeds of the play are to be turned over to the Campbell community chest, as the contribution of the local players group.

The play centers around a very wealthy soap king's play boy son, and a high pressure advertising agent, who in cahoots with the soap manufacturer's secretary, decide to manufacture the cheapest soap in the world, and by extensive advertising, sell it for more than any other soap in the world. They give the trade name of "13 soap" to their product. A French Countess hears of this and decides to help the boys and take part if not all their earnings by seeking the French rights to the soap. The complications that arise, present one of the most amusing entanglements imaginable.

The cast is headed by Bob Weaver in the role of the play-boy who goes into the soap business in competition with his father.

The heroine, Helen Payne Wrigglesworth, tries to play both ends toward the middle. Paul Becker portrays the

A UNIVERSITY'S BIRTHDAY

Fifty years ago the effete East got quite a laugh out of Leland Stanford's new university in the western wilderness. There wasn't even a Palo Alto then; only buildings and a few oak trees on barren fields.

New York papers joked about lecturers talking to themselves in empty class-rooms. Last week educators of the nation and of far countries set congratulations to Stanford University on her proud 50th anniversary. And that was tribute to the spirit and to the incredible half-century of progress of all California—to the State University grown to the world's largest, with great branches north and south; to the University of Southern California, which began as a little church school; to St. Mary's, Santa Clara and U. S. F.; to College of the Pacific, Caltech, Claremont, Pomona and other centers of education created to serve the seven million people of this new civilization of the West.

Congratulations to Stanford are a testimonial to all the splendid builders, living and dead, of modern-day California.

JOE LOUIS' GREATEST FIGHT

When the tawny young Negro completed his spectacular climb from the canebrakes to the world's championship, he declared his policy: "I want to fight honest always—so that the next colored boy needing a chance will get the same breaks I got." And now that there are no fistic worlds left to conquer, Joe Louis still wants to fight "one more fight, the tbes of all fights, to help my people."

Sponsoring the Joe Louis fund for promotion of racial tolerance and understanding under auspices of the Federal Council of Churches, Louis said: "My people are fighting their way up, same as I did; and I want to open the door a little wider for them. I want to start that fund with my own contribution."

The Bomber's iron fists have smashed 19 assaults on his proud ring kingship. But his greatest victory has been destruction of the racial prejudices erected through the championship activities of Jack Johnson. Simple, poorly?educated Joe Louis has done more to "help his people" than any Negro since Booker T. Washington.

FIGHT FIRE NOW

National Fire Prevention Week, October 6 to 13, is a call for personal and civic action against local fire hazards before gutted timbers and perhaps needlessly destroyed lives, take the toll of our neglect or delay.

Every year some 10,000 lives are claimed by fire as the price of man's carelessness. Every year, approximately $250 million worth of property is destroyed, mainly because of inadequate fire protection. Fire is a priceless friend, and an implacable enemy to man. But remember that fire, as an enemy, rarely strikes until you yourself have given him the chance!

AYES and NOES

There is a gasoline shortage. True or false? You can't prove it by us.

A Senate committee investigating the matter coolly says there isn't and Secretary "Terrible Harold" Ickes' emper soars to a boiling point with indignation.

So the question of a fuel shortage has again reached the stage of "It is so!", "It t'ain't so!" Well, there may be a lack of gasoline in the East by this winter, but we predict there'll be no lack of steam—as long as "Terrible Harold" continues in his customary fighting fettle.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Has the government set a quota to be raised through the sales of Defense Savings Bonds?

A. No, there is no quota and no time limit. The Defense Savings program is to be a continuing effort, and both Bonds and Stamps should be purchased steadily and regularly.

Q. Why were the nation's retail stores asked to sell Defense Savings Stamps?

A. American retailers were not asked—they volunteered through their national organizations to undertake the sale of Stamps on a vast scale.

A Southern Pacific switch engine went off the track near the Campbell depot yesterday, but did not go far or cause any material damage. Another engine pulled it back on the track, and that was that.

The Footlighters Enjoy Preview Of Coming Play

The Footlighters were given a rare treat Tuesday evening when the cast of "It Pays to Advertize" gave a preview of the play following the annual meeting of the group. By all indications this production should be one of the best presented by the organization.

Archie Keesling presided over the business session and gave a brief resume of the past year. Reports were given by the secretary, treasurer and an auditing committee.

Six new members were initiated into the club in appropriate ceremonies conducted by D. H. Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Grim, with Mrs. Archie Keesling at the piano. The new members are Mrs. Howard Church, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Becker, Mrs. Jack Murdock. Loren Allen and William Wrigglesworth.

The nominating committee reported and nominations were made from the floor and the following were elected to hold office for the coming year: LBen Howard, president; J. L. Levenberg, vice-president; Alma Leverton, re-elected secretary; Ethan Lanphear, reelected treasurer and the two directors, Jack Murdock and Paul Becker.

Cambrian Club Holds Meeting At School Wednesday

The first meeting of the Cambrian Home and School club was held Wednesday, Oct. 1 with Mrs. Clarence Fagalde presiding. A large attendance was on hand, in cluding many new mmebers.

Date of the community supper was announced as Oct. 24, with Mrs. G. A. Horton, general chairman. A tempting menu has been planned and an unusually fine program engaged.

Initial plans were laid for the first of the club's card parties. Nov. 15 is the date and turkeys will again be the choicest of prizes.

Mrs. Alfred Kennedy of the promotion department of the Goodwill Industries gave a brief but most interesting sketch of the splendid work being done by that organization in teaching trades to the physically handicaped.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

Taking formal action on several of the most vital issues now confronting the farming industry, the Agricultural Council of California legistlative board of the leading farm cooperatives of the state, has adopted a three-point program of major importance to all rural California.

Some 40 farm co-ops and farm commodity organizations, with more than 70,000 farmer-members, are represented by the Council.

Here is the Council's three-way program:

1.—Convinced that the preservation of democracy depends on the preservation of the rights of minorities as well as majorities in the operation of government, the Agricultural Council of California takes the position that the proposed initiative constitutional amendment to eliminate the present Federal plan of apportionment of the State Legislature is thoroughly unsound in principle and should be defeated by the voters. The Federal plan now provides the necessary checks and balances to protect the rights of both urban and rural California, and to replace it with population apportionment in the Senate will throw complete control of the entire Legislature into the hands of the large urban centers, occupying less than 3 per cent of the area of the state.

2.—Use of the "secondary boycott" and "hot cargo" in labor disputes is an attempt by one group to dominate the very lives and economic welfare of other groups through dangerous economic coercion. The referendum on the measure prohibiting the use of these un-American weapons, after it had received the vote of at least two-thirds of the members of both Houses of the Legislature, is unfortunate. The Agricultural Council strongly recommends that the action of the Legislature be upheld by the voters at the coming election so that the future welfare of a united people may be preserved.

3.—The prospect of a considerable surplus from increased tax collections in the state treasury in the reasonably near future must be recognized as due to war conditions and consequent large-scale spendings. After the war emergency is over there is certain to be a decided change in business conditions which will have a direct bearing on public revenues during that time. Therefore, the Agricultural Council believes that the expenditures of state funds must be kept to a minimum, and any surplus that may develop should be held intact for use when the state's tax income will be greatly lessened and the people's ability to carry the tax load greatly impaired, or taxes should be reduced to offset, in some measure, the sharp increases in federal taxes occasioned by the national defense program.

To rural people, there is little that needs to be said in explanation or amplification of that program.

Under the present federal plan of apportionment, both the cities and country districts have had a voice in legislative affairs. The urban-dominated Assembly and the rural-dominated Senate have made for an effective system of checks and balances and much bad legislation has been averted by reason of the fact that no one group or section of the state had control of the legislature. If the labor-proposed program to apportion the Senate on a population basis became law, rural California would be virtually disenfranchised.

Nor is there any great need for comment on the "hot cargo" issue. Labor's use of the vicious "secondary boycott" has penalized people who had no labor difficulties simply so that labor bosses could accomplish, indirectly, what they were unable to accomplish directly and openly. Unless the action of the Legislature in banning the "secondary boycott" is upheld, farmers will be completely at the mercy of labor organizers and racketeers who have no sympathy with farming problems.

On the tax question, the issue is equally clear-cut. At the moment, due to tremendous expenditures in the national defense program, business turnover has greatly increased, with a consequent increase in state revenues. The state deficit will soon be wiped out and a surplus should accumulate, but it has been the history of government that when revenues increase expenditures usually increase accordingly, unless a vigilant electorate frowns on extravagant spending. Virtually all economists are agreed that the post-war period will again bring a period of depression and economic upheaval, and the wisdom of putting aside some savings for a rainy day, or of reducing state taxes now to help taxpayers in carrying their greatly increased federal burden, cannot be disputed.

The entire group of agricultural students of the Campbell Union High school are attending the county fair today, where livestock and poultry judging occupied the forenoon and the afternoon is being spent inspecting other exhibits and attractions.

Byron Lanphear who was graduated recently from the aerophotography branch of the army air corps is home on a 20-day furlough before going to his assignment at Victorville, San Bernardino county.

Campbell Day at the county fair has been set for Saturday, October 11.

high pressure advertising salesman. The part of the very wealthy soap manufacturer, is played by Jack Murdock. Lenore Weaver, as the French Countess, displays a splendid talent for comedy and versatility.

Rounding out the excellent cast is Gene Hodges as the pampered Ivory soap manufacturer's son; Herold Morton a soap buyer; Ira Grim as a hard-boiled landlord; D. H. Cramer as Mr. Smith, an old friend of the family who is talked out of $10,000; Martha Parr as Marie, the French maid; Bud Levenberg as the very efficient but rather dumb butler; and Evelyn Shumway as the office assistant.

The comedy is being directed by Paul Becker with the assistance of Mrs. Archie Keesling and Dean Chamberlin. J. O. Leverton, stage manager, is being aided by Ethan Lanphear and Richard Knappen and they are completing work on the complicated sets and properties.

For an evening of pure fun and comedy, this play is very highly recommended. Tickets may be secured at Leverton's Hardware store, Campbell Water company or any member of The Footlighters. Admission price is reasonable with a reduced rate to any high, grammar or college student.

Buccaneers Battle Gilroy Team To Goose Egg Tie

Out-played in the first half but showing tremendous ground power in the second half, Campbell's red and blue clad Buccaneers held a strong Gilroy eleven to a scoreless tie in a football game at Gilroy Friday night.

Gilroy never penetrated Campbell's twenty yard line but got off two fine passes in the first half. The locals marched to Gilroy's five yard line where a fumble stymied the threat.

With three minutes to go Campbell took over on their own forty-five and drove to Gilroy's thirty where the gun ended the game.

were "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Roll Along, Covered Wagon, Roll Along," and their theme song, "United States of America."

The club rooms were cleverly decorated in the pioneer theme. There were arrangements of covered wagons, gnarled Manzanita and here and there a lovely bouquet of autumn flowers adding a gay bit of color.

Hostesses for the day were Mesdames Monica Parr, C. W. Sutter, Frank Blair, A. D. Rice, C. N. Grizzle and C. S. Kaneen.

Mrs. George Jeffers presided at the busines meeting which preceded the program.

New members elected to join the club were Mrs. Virgil Cook, Mrs. Bertha Barron, and Mrs. Milton Robertson.

Mrs. L. J. Carboni, in her County Federation report, announced that the federation is sponsoring a radio program each first and fourth Thursday of the month at 2:15. Mrs. W. R. Morgan will speak on Oct. 23. Her topic will be "The Student Loan Fund."

The next meeting of the club will be on Oct. 20 and will be guest day in the form of an Antique Tea. Those wishing to bring a guest and those who have antiques to display should contact one of the following committee at once: Mrs. W. R. Morgan, Mrs. Herbert Shadle, Mrs. J. A. Forward, Mrs. L. C. Shank, Mrs. H. E. Hansen, Mrs. Ellis Crane and Mrs. G. W. Burrow.

School to Have Nat'l Assemblies

Each year the National Assemblies of Los Angeles present educational and entertaining attractions to more than two and one quarter million students in assemblies all over the country.

These programs feature actors, musicians, artists and many other notable persons.

Campbell High school has enjoyed programs sponsored by this group for a number of years.

On the schedule for this year are: Dr. Martin Hall, noted German exile journalist; Gordon, the Magician, national prize winner; Bob Wood, brilliant cartoonist; national music champions, winners of superior rating in high school music contests; Captain Theodore Stern, criminoligest famous for his work with the lie detector.

With such a schedule as this students look forward to many interesting assemblies.

Dr. Rex Tayler, who conducts a veterinary hospital in San Jose has earned the gratitude and appreciation of the Campbell Future Farmers in examining, without charge, all of their stock to be exhibited at the fair, for the benefit of the students. The state law requires such an examination by a licensed veterinarian before an animal can be entered in a stock exhibit, the purpose of course, to prevent the spread of disease.

Seniors Will Present "Tish" November 28

"Tish," a play combining many of the characters made famous by Mary Roberts Rinehart in magazine articles appearing in the Saturday Evening Post, has been selected by the senior class of 1942 as its class play to be presented Nov. 28.

Try-outs for the play will be called as soon as the books arrive, probably the first of next week.

Seniors under the leadership of Charlotte Robertson are also planning to conduct candy sales at all games in an endeavor to raise funds to carry on the many activities of the senior calendar.

Los Gatos And Campbell To Play Here Friday

After being held to a 0 to 0 tie by Gilroy, the Campbell eleven are out for blood when they meet Los Gatos on the home grounds tomorrow.

Coach Herbert Hudson scouted the Cats in their previous start against Lincoln High school of San Francisco, and although they lost by an 18-14 score, Hudson reports that they have a fairly well balanced team. Even with this in mind he predicts that Campbell should win without much trouble.

CUTTING KITCHEN COST is important these days. Food and its preparation are making every housewife budget conscious. That is why women this month are investigating how a modern Gas Range can bring four savings into the kitchen.

In the modern gas range, the burners save fuel at every cooking speed. These new burners keep the gas flame on the bottom of the pan—there's no waste heat spilling around the sides. The simmer adjustment on the burners makes possible waterless cooking that saves healthful vitamins to retain the garden-fresh flavor of vegetables. Giant top burners, speed ovens and broilers plus automatic lighting save kitchen time at every meal hour. The insulated oven of the new gas range permits the low-temperature cooking that reduces meat shrinkage and tenderizes the less expensive cuts of meat.

Buy a modern Gas Range now and save. Save while prices are still low. Save on every meal every day.
